

1. Is this Photo Story linked to a Case Study?

If this is the case, please add the name and link to the relevant Case Study.

No

2. Follow-up: Is the individual in the beginning, middle or end of an activity/program with Save the Children?

If he or she is still taking part in an activity/program in the future please explain when a follow-up story could be planned i.e.: six months, one year later etc.

Is this a follow-up from an earlier Photo Story or Case Study? If so, please add a link to the earlier Photo Story or Case Study.

They are at the beginning of the program intervention.

Follow up could be conducted a year after this date (12/12/2013)

Photo 1

Add a small version (thumbnail) of the photo here

Caption (short)

Teka GebreMichael, 67 years old is a farmer and father of seven children, three boys, and four girls. He looks after his fruit and vegetable garden located at Maydaero village of the Tigray region. Before Save the Children's intervention in the area, Teka and his family used to be food insecure. They used to suffer due to recurrent droughts and water shortage. Teka says, "now after receiving the support of improved seedlings and water pump generator from which I pump water from the nearby pond , I have been able to grow a variety of vegetables such as cabbage, swiss chard, chilli pepper and carrots. I have also been able to grow fruits such as apple, guava and orange. Besides this I also grow food crops like barley, maize and teff for sale and my family's consumption. I have one ox, two goats and chickens as well. While one of my sons and two of my daughters have married and live on their own, I have two daughters and one son that go to Wukro secondary school. One of my son, Kahsay, nine is in grade one in Maydaero elementary school and is one of the top performing students. He has received an award for his outstanding performance in class. Unfortunately one of my daughters has dropped out from school in tenth grade as I am unable to support her in her continued education after her completion of high school. I wish I could support her in the future with the income that I can generate from selling my produce and animals. I am thankful for the support that I have received, but I wish I got the support in the past when I was young and stronger. I would have been able to lead and provide a better life for my family.

Photo saved as (name of photo file)	DSC_0752
Original photo file size (KB)	5.89 MB

Photo 8
Add the thumbnail a small version (thumbnail) of the photo here
Caption (short)	A young apple tree amongst the swiss chards in Teka's fruit and vegetable garden in Maydaero

	village of the Tigray region. Teka GebreMichael, 67 years old is a farmer and father of seven children, three boys, and four girls. Before Save the Children’s intervention in the area, Teka and his family used to be food insecure. They used to suffer due to recurrent droughts and water shortage. Teka says, “now after receiving the support of improved seedlings and water pump generator from which I pump water from the nearby pond , I have been able to grow a variety of vegetables such as cabbage, swiss chard, chilli pepper and carrots. I have also been able to grow fruits such as apple, guava and orange. Besides this I also grow food crops like barley, maize and teff for sale and my family’s consumption. I have one ox, two goats and chickens as well. While one of my sons and two of my daughters have married and live on their own, I have two daughters and one son that go to Wukro secondary school. One of my son, Kahsay, nine is in grade one in Maydaero elementary school and is one of the top performing students. He has received an award for his outstanding performance in class. Unfortunately one of my daughters has dropped out from school in tenth grade as I am unable to support her in her continued education after her completion of high school. I wish I could support her in the future with the income that I can generate from selling my produce and animals. I am thankful for the support that I have received, but I wish I got the support in the past when I was young and stronger. I would have been able to lead and provide a better life for my family.
Photo saved as (name of photo file)	DSC_0779
Original photo file size (KB)	4.72MB

Photo 9

Add the thumbnail a small version (thumbnail) of the photo here

Caption (short)

Teka GebreMichael, 67 years old with his son Kahsay, nine stand in the family's fruit and vegetable garden located in Maydaero village of the Tigray region. Teka is a farmer and father of seven children, three boys, and four girls. Before Save the Children's intervention in the area, Teka and his family used to be food insecure. They used to suffer due to recurrent droughts and water shortage. Teka says, "now after receiving the support of improved seedlings and water pump generator from which I pump water from the nearby pond , I have been able to grow a variety of vegetables such as cabbage, swiss chard, chilli pepper and carrots. I have also been able to grow fruits such as apple, guava and orange. Besides this I also grow food crops like barley, maize and teff for sale and my family's consumption. I have one ox, two goats and chickens as well.

While one of my sons and two of my daughters have married and live on their own, I have two daughters and one son that go to Wukro secondary school. One of my son, Kahsay, nine is in grade one in Maydaero elementary school and is one of the top performing students. He has received an award for his outstanding performance in class. Unfortunately one of my daughters has dropped out from school in tenth grade as I am unable to support her in her continued education after her completion of high school. I wish I could support her in the future with the income that I can generate from selling my produce and animals. I am thankful for the support that I have received, but I wish I got the support in the past when I was young and stronger. I would have been able to lead and provide a better life for my family.

Photo saved as (name of photo file)	DSC_0793
Original photo file size (KB)	6.37MB

Photo 10
Add the thumbnail a small version (thumbnail) of the photo here
Caption (short)	Kabsay, nine is the son of Teka GebreMichael, 67 years old who is a farmer and a father of seven children, three boys, and four girls. Kabsay, is in grade one in Maydaero elementary school and is one of the top performing students. He has received an award for his outstanding performance in class. Before Save the Children’s intervention in the area, Teka and his family used to be food insecure. They used to suffer due to recurrent droughts and water shortage. Teka says, “now after receiving the support of improved seedlings and water pump generator from which I pump water from the nearby pond , I have been able to grow a variety of vegetables such as cabbage, swiss chard, chilli pepper and carrots. I have also been able to grow fruits such as apple, guava and orange. Besides this I also grow food crops like barley, maize and teff for sale and my family’s consumption. I have one ox, two goats and chickens as well.

Photo saved as (name of photo file)	DSC_0804
Original photo file size (KB)	5.12MB

Photo 2
Add the thumbnail a small version (thumbnail) of the photo here
Caption (short)	Teka GebreMichael, 67 years old is a farmer in Maydaero village of the Tigray region. He is a father of seven children, three boys, and four girls. He stands in front of the water pump generator inside his man made pond. Before Save the Children’s intervention in the area, Teka and his family used to be food insecure. They used to suffer due to recurrent droughts and water shortage. Teka says, “now after receiving the support of improved seedlings and water pump generator from which I pump water from the nearby pond , I have been able to grow a variety of vegetables such as cabbage, swiss chard, chilli pepper and carrots. I have also been able to grow fruits such as apple, guava and orange. Besides this I also grow food crops like barley, maize and teff for sale and my family’s consumption. I have one ox, two goats and chickens as well. While one of my sons and two of my daughters have married and live on their own, I have two daughters and one son that go to Wukro secondary school. One of my son, Kahsay, nine is in grade one

	in Maydaero elementary school and is one of the top performing students. He has received an award for his outstanding performance in class. Unfortunately one of my daughters has dropped out from school in tenth grade as I am unable to support her in her continued education after her completion of high school. I wish I could support her in the future with the income that I can generate from selling my produce and animals. I am thankful for the support that I have received, but I wish I got the support in the past when I was young and stronger. I would have been able to lead and provide a better life for my family.
Photo saved as (name of photo file)	DSC_0814
Original photo file size (KB)	6.63MB

Child protection and consent issues.
8.1 Please confirm that you have followed Save the Children child protection policies and have completed full consent forms for the child and/or family, and every individual you have quoted and photographed. Tick box to confirm: <input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
8.2 Protection notes: If you have changed the name of an interviewee or have changed information that could lead to their identification for protection reasons, please outline the reasons.
N/A

Photo Story reference information
Interviewer:	Amerti Lemma
Photographer:	Amerti Lemma
Approved for use by: Approval for use is given by the Country Office.	Katy Webley (DCD, PDQ)

Date:	12/12/2014
Instructions for further uses/further permissions required: When using this Photo Story please do not change any of the written content or manipulate the photos. If you're unsure about anything to do with its use or content, please contact the Member Service staff in the Country Office that the Photo Story originated from.

Guidance for the Communications Materials templates: Photo Story

The aim of the guidance is to give additional explanatory notes or examples of what is required for different key sections of the templates. In addition, there are references to existing Save the Children guidance.

A Photo Story is a visual way of telling the audience about the situation or issues facing a child or children. It tells the audience how Save the Children's work has made a difference in the life of a child or his or her family.

Caption (short)

Captions should clearly state who is in the photo, where it was taken, and when. Include information about our response if appropriate.

Photos

- Please only use photos in their original file format (i.e.: JPG or TIF etc.) otherwise they will not be a high enough resolution to use.

If possible, try to take the photo in both portrait (height long) and landscape (width long).